

JAMES MALONEY has been in full-time, itinerant ministry for over forty years as president of Dove on the Rise International. As a well-respected prophetic voice with an apostolic, fathering mantle of impartation, James' expression is marked by a powerful sign-and-wonder flow, heavily geared toward healing for the mind, soul and body.

The Lord has graced his ministry with a strong influence on the manifest presence of God's glory in corporate and one-on-one encounters that leave a residual impartation within the congregation, furthering their impact on a regional level, even expanding into sections of their respective nations. This imparting element produces profound, prophetic revelation, coupled with strategic wisdom, within the people, as well as a significant increase in signs, wonders, miracles and healing that make the local church very attractive to the surrounding community.

As the Spirit directs, James moves in a prophetic seer operation, where specific details about people's conditions are supernaturally revealed, thereby creating faith in Jesus Christ to receive their miracle. To God's glory and honor alone, this panoramic flow has been consistently used to dissolve metal in people's bodies, to create or recreate limbs, to liquefy tumors and pacemakers, to open blind eyes and deaf ears, and much more!

Because of his desire to see this type of body ministry replicated in the lives of others, James has written several books, many of which are bestsellers. He and his wife, Joy, live in the Dallas-Fort Worth area with their grown children and seven grandsons.

For more information, please contact:
Dove on the Rise International
www.doveontherise.com